DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group I in the reply filed on 1/10/05 is acknowledged.

Drawings

2. Figure 1 and 2 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

4. The disclosure is objected to because it contains an embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code. Applicant is required to delete the embedded hyperlink and/or other form of browser-executable code. See MPEP § 608.01.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

5. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claims 1-11, 13, 15-22, and 30-39 are not limited to tangible embodiments. In view of applicant's disclosure, specification page, 6, lines 1-5 and page 7, lines 30-36, the medium- synchronization system/server, and memory of a synchronization system, is not limited to tangible embodiments. As such, the claims are not limited to statutory subject matter and are therefore non-statutory subject matter and are therefore non-statutory.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-11, 13, 15-22 and 30-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by SyncML Sync Protocol, Version 1.0.1, 2001, cited by application on IDS filed on 10/09/01.

Art Unit: 2142

Regarding claimed invention, SyncML Sync Protocol discloses a method of starting a session in a synchronization system comprising at least one electronic device, comprising, configured to determine for a request, indicating the need for starting a session (such as One_Way sync from client only as in chapter 6, section 1.3); determining in the synchronization server the maximum size for a message (such as section 4);

Version identifier and the identifier of the requested synchronization session (such as section 4.1);

In response to need for transmitting the request indicating the need for starting session to one client device (such as section 4.2)

Transmitting the message to the client (such as section 4.2);

Forming a session and transmitting the session initialization message from the client device to synchronization server (such as 4.3.1)

Regarding to dependent claims 2,4-9 claimed elements are all obvious variations of the well-known features of SyncML synchronization services synchronized with network application. Claimed posed device is no more than well-known functionality to transfer one SyncML package in multiple SyncML messages.

Claims 10-11, 13, 15-22 and 30-39 discloses the similar subject matter as in method claim 1, therefore, are rejected for the similar reasoning.
